BED BUGS

Trends in Apartments

Don't let the Bed Bugs take a bite out of your budget!

Bed Bug outbreaks in apartments are increasing at an alarming rate in most metropolitan areas, and Arkansas is just now starting to see higher outbreaks. Revision Bed Bugs have now spread to Rural America!

Bed Bugs will have severe financial, liability, and public relations impacts on many apartment properties in the near future.

Bed Bugs may soon become the No. 1 pest in apartment properties, being the most difficult and expensive to control these outbreaks!

Bed Bug infestations pose significant risks of health department involvement, lawsuits, and public relations nightmares.

Unfortunately, by the time a site manager realizes that there are Bed Bug problems at their property, the infestations can be typically widespread and the Bed Bugs are infesting much more than beds. They are in the furniture, under the carpet, and in the walls. At this point, only the most aggressive actions will succeed.

We help make your residents part of the solution

Early detection is essential in reducing further infestations and treatment costs. New infestations of Bed Bugs can be brought into the property by residents and visitors over and over again!

Successful Bed Bug control requires proactive actions by property management, intensive pest control service, and constant follow-up.

Permanent removal of Bed Bugs relies heavily on the involvement of those residents infected. The treatment process has many steps and cooperation from residents is critical.
